Two Hamlin Men Were Killed In Car Wreck, Tuesday Morning

Richard Lehman and N. E. Money met a sudden tragic death early Tuesday morning while on their way to Dallas. They were accompanied by Miss Doris Steed, age 17, and her brother, James Steed, age 15, but the children were only injured slightly and suffered shock.

Tuesday was a day looked forward to by each of the members of the above group, as the beginning of a holiday trip, a visit to loved ones and to see the Texas Centennial, and thus at 5:20 A. M. Mr. Lehman, affording a ride for his friends, left Hamlin light hearted and happy over the prospects for rain and the feel of the cool morning air. Evidently they made good time on the road, despite the wet roads and the mist, till 7:30, perhaps, they had reached about 27 miles east of Breckenridge, and there just west of Palo Pinto, near the Neely store, is a turn in the road at the Ione Creek bridge, and here the terrific crash came.

The nearest guess anybody is able to get at the true situation, just preceding the head-on crash into the banister of the bridge, is that Mr. Lehman's car, had perhaps swerved too far to the right, from speed or by shying from a passing vehicle, that the right wheels got on wet slippery ground, and despite the quick acting of the driver, with both sets of brakes, the crash came in lightning like speed, before Mr. Lehman could regain the pavement.

The car hit squarely in the center of the bumper, crashing it double—back into the engine, to the axle, catapulting the occupants forward with the stop, with such force that the life was crushed out of Mr. Lehman immediately and Mr. Money was so frightfully hurt that he lived only a short while.

Immediately after the wreck, as fortune would have it, a Hamlin man, Wesley Niedecken, came along from Fort Worth in his truck, being the second man to arrive at the scene, and recognized Mr. Lehman, and the children. Mr. Money's condition prevented him from knowing the face. Niedecken said Lehman breathed just a time or two after being removed from the car.

The news was telephoned to the Strauss Dry Goods store, by Niedecken and perhaps no news has been received in Hamlin in many years that was more shocking, and caused so many expressions of sadness and regrets. The only saving point in all the tragedy that brought a sigh of relief was that the two children had escaped serious injury and death.

Ambulances from Breckenridge brought the dead and injured to that city hospital, and soon after arrival at the hospital Mr. Money passed away without ever regaining consciousness.

Immediately following the news in Hamlin, Rev. J. Henry Littleton started for Breckenridge to be of aid, but death had come to Mr. Money, one of his deacons and caretaker of his church here.

The automobile showed that Mr. Lehman had been pitched against the steering wheel, crushing the chest and perhaps his head struck the upper part of the wheel and windshield, and the bend of the wheel probably showed that Mr. Lehman was caught in a crouching position with his hand on the emergency brake. The brakes were so solidly that the rods had to be cut to release the car.

The car showed that, perhaps, Mr. Money's head had been pitched through the windshield with the terrific force, resulting in a frightful mutilation. The front glass and light lenses were the only glass broken.

Mr. Niedecken brought the Steed children and the wrecked car to Hamlin, in his truck.

The bodies in ambulances from Hamlin and Stamford arrived in Hamlin about six P. M. and treatment for burial was completed at the funeral parlors of the Barrow Company.

Telegrams from the brothers of Mr. Lehman in Cleveland, Ohio, directed that the body be shipped to that city for burial, and during Tuesday night many saddened business friends visited the funeral apartments to pay their respects to Mr. Lehman's memory. A Masonic guard stood watch during the hours, and officials and members of the lodge accompanied the body to Abilene, early Wednesday morning, where, accompanied by Mr. Otto Berlin, assistant manager of the Strauss Store, the remains were started for Cleveland.

The body of Mr. Money was prepared for burial and early Wednesday carried to the home on More Avenue, in East Hamlin, to await funeral arrangements.

Perhaps these two sudden deaths brought the greatest shock to Hamlin people that has been experienced here in a long time. Both men were citizens who had a host of friends. Clerks, and all business firms valued Mr. Lehman highly and Mr. Money was one of the senior members of the Baptist church, and like Mr. Lehman, was an official in the Masonic lodge.

Mr. Lehman had been making car trips to Dallas almost every week for several years, and knew the road perfectly. He was always very accommodating and seemed so glad to help friends wishing to get to Dallas.

Mr. Money had been as gleeful as a child in anticipation of the ride, the trip and a visit with his daughter in Dallas, and was ready early Tuesday morning to board the car.

Miss Doris Steed and James Steed, children of Mr. and Mrs. James I. Steed of Hamlin, were delighted to get to go to Dallas to visit their aunts, Misses Ethel and Clonell Harris, and to see the Centennial, and they too were happy with a chance so graciously offered by Mr. Lehman.

Tuesday was the Jewish New Year, and Thursday was to have been a great holiday for Mr. Lehman, and possibly the trip was started Tuesday with more than usual anticipation.

ROTARY CLUB HELD MEMORIAL SERVICE

Wednesday at the regular noon hour luncheon of the Hamlin Rotary Club, the entire program centered around a Memorial Service in honor of a departed and esteemed member, Richard Lehman.

Supt. C. G. Green had charge and the invited guest speaker, representing the Lions Club and the City, was Mayor Joe Culbertson. The first to talk was H. O. Cassle, at whose home, Richard Lehman came to live seven years ago. All this time Mr. Lehman had made that home his home and naturally Mr. Cassle had many interesting things to tell, the best of which was that the man had proven a real gentleman, in every respect—that Mr. Lehman took him and his wife into his confidence like a real son.

Tom Teague, President of the Hamlin Chamber of Commerce, spoke of Mr. Lehman as a helpful member of the business organization, a fair competitor, and a dependable citizen.

J. E. Moody spoke of Mr. Lehman, as taking an interest in so many things in the community's welfare, as a man who had a tender heart for those who needed sympathy, and as a clean gentleman and citizen.

Tate May spoke of Mr. Lehman as being a man who kept his business in good standing, who always remembered his appointments, and obligations, and willing and anxious to conform to the American rules of doing business.

Mayor Culbertson, spoke tenderly of Mr. Lehman as seeking to know Masonry, to learn the English language and perfect his Masonic work to where he could be of service to his fellow man. Mr. Culbertson was present at each of the three degrees Richard took in the Hamlin Lodge, and witnessed his presiding in the highest position of the Lodge, on Monday night before the tragic death. Mr. Culbertson's tribute was very impressive.

One or two others expressed words of commendation, and the whole program was such that would inspire every man to try to emulate the examples and life that commands the admiration of good citizenship.

N. E. MONEY

N. E. Money, most generally spoken of in Hamlin as "Brother Money," had his long, quiet but influential life closed in a tragic fashion, Tuesday morning at 9:00 o'clock, shortly after being in a car wreck near Palo Pinto. At the time of his death he had reached 67 years and one month of age.

He was born in the state of Alabama, August 15, 1869, and died September 15, 1936. In his early child life his parents came to Texas and settled in Hunt County, where he was married. In 1926 he came with his family to this part of the state and during the past years had farmed in the Flat Top community, in the Hitson section and in the Boyd Chapel community. And in recent years as economic conditions became so tense, he and his family became residents of Hamlin.

Mr. Money is survived by his life-long companion and six daughters and five sons as follows: Misses Edna and Nellie Pearl Money, Elan, Troy and Lee Money, and Mrs. S. M. Richardson, all of Hamlin. The others are Mrs. J. M. Davis of Rule, Mrs. Spurgeon Harrell of Aspermont, Mrs. S. H. Coker of Dallas, Jess Money of Caddo, Okla., and Irvin Money, of Hillsboro, Texas. Besides the eleven children there are sixteen living grandchildren. One very remarkable thing about this large family, is that their father lived to see them all grown men and women, and all of the immediate family were present for the funeral services.

Mr. Money had probably spent more than sixty years of his 67 years in Texas and one brother Rev. Henry T. Money, an older man, preceded him in death only this past summer. He lived in Hunt County and was a minister of the Baptist Church for more than fifty years. Rev. H. T. Money was about the first preacher the editor of the Herald remembers seeing after arriving in Texas at the age of 12, and therefore we have known something of the Money family as long as we have lived in this state. Most people spoke of N. E. Money as "brother" but he was not a preacher, but a mighty good christian man, a deacon for many years in the church, a Sunday School superintendent, a teacher or a good listener-student wherever you saw him.

Brother Money, earnest, sincere, somewhat frail but very energetic, and yet quite happy in nature, impressed himself as being a man of ability but lacked opportunities. He fought a steady fight and would not give up when his strength demanded. He kept young in spirit. He was interested in the worthwhile things of the community. He loved his children and the trip to Dallas was one he had wanted ever since the Centennial started. He only wanted cooler weather to come and then to visit his daughter and see what Texas had to show for its 100 years of independence. Born in Alabama but Texan in life.

In recent years Brother Money was an active deacon in the Hamlin Baptist church and a Sunday School teacher. He also had care of the buildings and grounds and did a good job of it, considering his age and strength. He was faithful.

Funeral services were conducted at the Church Wednesday afternoon by the pastor, Rev. J. Henry Littleton, in the presence of a large number of friends who came from the surrounding communities and the city, in spite of the rain and weather. Lovely floral offerings, and sermon expressions, all emphasized the esteem held for the life of the deceased.

Brother Money was a good and faithful member of the Masonic Lodge. He was Tiler of the Lodge and officiated at the meeting on Monday night, along with the Worshipful Master, whom he loved and appreciated, and died with him on the fateful ride, Tuesday morning. Following the funeral the Brother Masons took charge of the body and assisted by the Barrow Company interment was made in East Cemetery Hamlin in the usual Masonic ceremony.

RICHARD LEHMAN

The sudden death of Richard Lehman, who was killed early Tuesday, September 15, was a shock to Hamlin people, among whom he had lived about seven years.

Mr. Lehman had impressed the people of this community with his many estimable traits of character and his wonderful earnestness, and eagerness to become Americanized, and be a real citizen.

Richard Lehman was born in Meckenheim, Bavaria, Germany, in 1895, and was 41 years old. He was one of four sons in his father's family. He was educated in the schools of that country and grew to full manhood, at Meckenheim. He became a soldier in the German Army of the World War. In this struggle he was wounded, and remained in Germany, till late 1928 or early 1929, when he joined his brothers in the United States.

In 1929, Mr. Lehman came to Hamlin and acquired an interest in the Strauss Dry Goods store. When Richard arrived in Hamlin his English language was very meager. He knew nothing much of our ways and customs, but at once impressed every one that he was a high toned gentleman and a thinker and a hard worker. He carried a pleasant greeting to every face he met. He was careful in business, observing of how Americans did things, and more especially he observed and tried to emulate what he thought were the ideals and objects that Americans loved most. Mr. Lehman challenged the best and his associates were in the best, refined circles. He learned our language and customs rapidly. He made friends. He was sympathetic for those needing help. He was genteel and careful not to say evil against anyone or grumble at things, so often noticed by us Americans.

If we were to try to pick out the outstanding ambitions Mr. Lehman held in his heart, we would say it was: To become an American citizen—To become useful in our business circle and to become a Mason. All of these he fondly realized before his untimely death. He began his citizenship papers in time to call our flag his flag this year. He took such energetic interest in developing Hamlin business welfare that he was chosen this year, Vice President of the local Chamber of Commerce and worked diligently on many committees. He began his Masonic lesson in 1933, after his application was accepted in the Hamlin lodge. He completed the Master Mason work, step by step till this year he was chosen Worshipful Master. He had served in this capacity but two meetings, and his first degree work was the night before his death. (Not many Americans would make such progress in any foreign land and language.)

Mr. Lehman was a member of the Hamlin Rotary Club and one of the most enthusiastic for Rotary ideals.

The body of Mr. Lehman was brought to Hamlin late Tuesday from Breckenridge and remained in the Barrow Funeral Parlor during the night. Many friends, both men and women, visited the rooms to pay their respects. Masonic brethren stood watch during the hours and a Masonic escort accompanied the body early Wednesday morning to Abilene where it was taken by the Sunshine Special on its way to Cleveland, Ohio, for burial. Mr. Otto Berlin accompanied.

The deceased is survived by three brothers, Ernest and Otto Lehman of Cleveland, Ohio, and Carl Lehman, of Chicago. Two sisters survive both of them being in Germany—one, Mrs. Luitpold Bermann of Kusel Pfalz, Germany. The sisters were visited by Richard this summer, and on his return to America he was accompanied by his nephew, little Kurt Bermann, who is now in Cleveland, in school. This little 12 year old boy seemed to be Richard's pride and joy to help.

The Herald would have the brothers and sisters of Richard Lehman to know that he had worked his way into the friendly hearts of all who knew him in this city, in so short a while, with all the hindrances of languages and customs prevailing between his native country and his adopted nation.

We still have some used sheet iron for sale at a reasonable price.

MR. AND MRS. STEED VERY GRATEFUL AND THANKFUL

Mr. and Mrs. James I. Steed, father and mother of the children who came so near death in the Lehman car wreck, Tuesday, are so deeply grieved over the deaths, and yet so very happy and thankful that their children escaped, that they wish for the Herald to say for them that they deeply appreciate all the interest and concern Hamlin people expressed during the hours of uncertainty. They are humbly grateful for everything, and would like for each and every one to know it. And joining in this feeling are the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Harris and the members of their family, and especially the two aunts of the children, in Dallas. Truly all these people have room for much sadness and at the same time much joy in the outcome.

Mrs. H. A. Longino left Sunday for Nashville, Tenn., where she is a delegate to the Methodist Missionary Society. During her absence, Rev. Longino has been, and is chief cook and bottle washer. On Thursday he was agreeably eliminated from his chef's job through the kindness of Mrs. Henry Jackson and Miss Pearl Hudson, who furnished him with his favorite dinner—"chicken and all the trimmings." The children of the Longino family say a meal of this sort really beats daddy's cooking and Daddy Longino heartily agrees with the children and all concerned with the feast thank the donors.

GEO. F. HUBBARD, A FORMER NEINDA CITIZEN, KILLED

Sunday started a fateful week for several communities of Jones County, and near the first was the death of George F. Hubbard, formerly of Neinda, who died as a result of a car wreck eight miles south of Abilene, on Highway 30. His automobile overturned. It is reported that a woman by the name of Mrs. Mary McDonald, of Breckenridge, who was with Mr. Hubbard, was painfully injured in the same wreck.

Mr. Hubbard was 52 years of age and was residing in Breckenridge, as a salesman. He had resided in Neinda, just south of the stores, on the west side of the road leading to Boyd Chapel, for about 25 years, till a short while ago. He is survived by a wife and a son and two daughters.

Funeral services were conducted at the Neinda Baptist Church Monday afternoon, and interment was in the Neinda Cemetery.

ANSON HAD TWO DEATHS FROM CAR AND TRUCK

Anson was in the lime light of tragedy also this week. A young man by the name of Novice Laverne Hearndon, age 15, died Sunday in that city from injuries from a car that overturned several times in South Anson. Three other boys, one a brother of the dead boy and Seth Lawrence and Doufley Hull were injured at the same time.

Saturday about midnight, a Mexican, named John Malone, age about 30, a farm laborer was struck one mile north of Anson, by a truck and killed.

The Anson-Roby road had a bad wreck also Sunday when a Lubbock salesman, H. B. Bingham was perhaps fatally injured when his car overturned.

One comfort in hitting the bottom is that you can't go lower.

TENNANTRY: In this week's Herald, and for two more weeks, we are carrying articles on "The Tennant Question," or we might say on the subject of "Home-ownership." If there is any one thing Ye Editor has a hobby about as an economic question, it is that of trying to work out some way in which men and women and their children can obtain and hold a farm home. The Resettlement Administration of the Federal government is doing something on this line, but so far they have not laid a plan or foundation to even amount to a drop in the great ocean of homeless people in Texas or any other state. We note also that Gov. Allred is planning to call a state-wide conference of "somebody" to consider this question. It is the biggest problem and the most "humane" of anything the present administration of either the state or nation has yet mentioned.

We have studied this question constantly for more than six years, and as time passes the problem is getting more pressing and harder to solve. It is not an impossible problem, if only the right people assemble to solve. It will never be solved by the wealthy, the independent, and powerful interests. It is the concern of the poor man and when the poor farmless farmer becomes aware that his very life and the hope and existence of his children depends upon a home where he can not be cuffed about, then it is that a way will be found whereby a farm homestead can be secured and held under any and all circumstances except downright laziness and mismanagement. Texas people have squandered their landed domain and the land hog has possession.

Read this weeks article from the Resettlement Administration. Keep it and read the next two articles. Make up your mind what to do and how.

FEW TENANTS CAN WIN LAND OWNERSHIP UNDER PRESENT FARM SYSTEM

(This is the first of three articles on what is being done by the Resettlement Administration to assist tenant farmers to become land-owners.)

We might not be so seriously concerned with farm tenancy if it were a passing or transient condition, if it were simply a stage by which the farmer reached a higher level. But tenancy as it exists in Texas and Oklahoma tends to be a permanent stratification in which the greater part of our farmers are permanently imbedded. Financial returns to the tenant farmers are ordinarily so low that he is prevented from accumulating the reserves which would enable him to shake loose from that condition.

At a conference of southern agricultural research leaders held at New Orleans, a large amount of new material was made available, which included a study of 700 share croppers in Alabama. It showed that only one out of ten of them ever became owners. Only one out of four ever rose to the condition of a third-and-fourth renter in which he owned his teams and equipment. Seventy-five per cent of them remained their whole life as share croppers.

The study showed that in three years out of four these families lost money or broke even. That is, during three years out of four they made enough only to liquidate what they owed to their landlord, or they increased their debt to him. Another study showed that out of 3,000 share croppers, forty per cent were in debt to their present landlords, with a debt of more than one year's standing. The average indebtedness was more than $80 to the present landlord. It was concluded from the results of this study that one-third of the share croppers in Alabama were indebted to this extent, and that the average share cropper under the present system can expect no more than a bare living and will remain permanently dependent upon the landlord for credit. There are 76,463 of these share-cropper families in in Texas and 13,640 in Oklahoma, totaling more than 430,000 individuals, who have not teams or tools and who are also entirely dependent upon their landlords for food and supplies while making a crop.

Instead of the number of small farm owners increasing, we have found during the last few decades that there has been a concentration of land in the hands of a few owners. There has been an increase in the number of farm operators, but at the same time there are indications that the ownership of these farms is tending more and more to move into the hands of a comparatively few. During one ten-year period, a study made in seven cotton states showed that the number of landlords owning more than five farms increased by twenty-five per cent.

We all know that many large plantations have broken up, but when this happened the land was not divided among small owners. When put on the block, these plantations are not divided and sold at reduced values to groups of rising small owners, but are sold on block to other large plantation owners or business and professional leaders in towns who are looking for investments. These purchasers of foreclosed property are often financed by federal long-term farm credit and become absentee owners.

It has been due to our past system of financing and credit, as much as to anything else, that the landlord-tenant system has perpetuated. The Resettlement Administration is now taking over a large number of farms which have fallen into the hands of loan companies, and is breaking them up into small tracts to be sold to tenants and other low-income farmers under conditions which will make it possible for these small owners to pay them out.

PERFECT GAME

Slats Hughes, young pitching star of Hamlin, turned in a no-hit, no-run game at Hamlin, Sunday against the Archer City Oilers, winners of the North Texas-Oklahoma League while he and his mates accounted for 4 runs, the first two of which were unearned and the second 2 coming after Ensey's triple in the sixth. Bonds, left handed ace for the Oilers, pitched a good game, striking out 11 of the locals.

By his good showing in this game Hughes has won the right to open the play-off series against Haskell Sunday.

West Texas Utilities Company

George H. Sheppard, comptroller of public accounts.

Increased travel because of the Centennial was a contributing factor but was not one of the primary causes, Mr. Sheppard said.

Total collections for the fiscal period were $41,193,960, an increase of $4,111,035 over the preceding year, which also broke all previous records.

Since March of 1933, when the state inaugurated enforcement of the first of several revisions in the gasoline tax law, until August, 1936, the receipts from this source have shown material progress each month, with few exceptions. In March, 1933, total receipts from the tax were $2,291,924 while for August, 1936, the income was $4,067,861, an increase of 78 per cent.

The amount that can be attributed to Centennial travel cannot be accurately calculated but comptroller's statisticians estimated it would represent the difference between the normal percent of increase through recorded for the Centennial months. They said, however, that even this difference could not definitely be attributed to Centennial traffic.

That enforcement, rather than the factors, is the chief cause of the increase is borne out by collections of the cigarette division for the fiscal year, Sheppard said. The comptroller's agents, released from court injunctions with which they literally had been plastered, collected $5,434,450 in cigarette taxes as compared to $4,302,542 the previous year, an increase of $1,131,908. Before high court decisions established the right of the comptroller to collect the tax on smokes purportedly purchased in interstate commerce the state lost hundreds of thousands of dollars.

The increase in the gasoline tax income will enable the state to undertake some badly needed highway construction that has been delayed because of lack of funds. A major portion of the funds of the past few years has been needed to match federal aid, maintain existing highways and provide for other expenses, with a consequent slowing down of construction from purely state funds.

The highway commission and its engineers now are working on the 1937 federal aid program and when it is completed will consider projects to be constructed from state funds only.

TRAVELING BY RAILROAD

A modern steam locomotive pulling a train of 13 Pullman cars can be accelerated to 90 miles per hour in about three minutes.

With less than six per cent of the world's land area and population, the United States has 32 per cent of the entire world's railroad mileage.

The railroads buy more than 70,000 individual commodities, ranking all the way from needles and pins to bridges and locomotives.

Many freight trains are now operated on schedules almost as fast as passenger trains.

These facts, issued by the Association of American Railroads, give an idea of the astonishing progress that has been made in railroad transportation. The chances are that more improvement has been achieved in operation since the war than in any like period since the industry's inception.

When you take a trip on a modern railroad train today, you use the highest developed media of transport the world has yet seen. It may be hot and humid outside, but inside your car spring weather prevails—because the rails have spent more than $50,000,000 on air-conditioning since 1929. The train is practically silent and vibrationless—and it can carry you through a dust storm without soiling your white suit. It will take you to your destination in a remarkably short time, and at a very low cost. Should you eat meals enroute, you'll find that dining cars no longer practice the "robbery" of which they used to be accused—the cost for meals is the same as in any good restaurant.

More Americans are traveling by rail now than in many years—because they have discovered that no other kind of traveling is as comfortable, as certain, and as economical in the light of service rendered.

WALL STREET IS MAIN STREET

Writing in the Hollister, California, Advance, some time ago, Rudolph Wilson said: "While Wall Street is actually only a short narrow street in New York City, its by-paths lead to every town and hamlet in the civilized world. Your nearest bank, trust company or building and loan association is just as much an integral part of the huge financial system of which Wall Street is the great throbbing nerve center as is the most magnificent financial house in lower Manhattan."

According to the Department of Commerce, nearly half the population of the country is now served by air-lines, and there are 109 companies in operation with routes totaling a little over 52,000 miles. This coverage is of course no comparable to that offered by railroads and buses, but is gradually increasing.

—IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE.

WONDERFUL RAINS CLOSE THE SUMMER

Since sometime last June, the Herald has longed to have an excuse to write about a big rain, about cooler weather, and all the blessings that go with such things in West Texas—we sweated, we waited and looked — and hardly a drop—sunshine, high temperatures, withering crops, and disappointment continued each day.

On September 15th, in the Hamlin country and apparently all over the West it was solid cloudy, misting rain and harder showers all day, and all night; and September 16, a steady downpour, not so hard but plenty to soak and drench the thirsty soil kept coming. Stockmen and cities wanted a deluge to fill up lakes and make streams flow. Other sections got floods and even though the rains will damage the open cotton greatly, the general effect will more than offset the cotton damage.

Plenty of September rains should fix fields in shape for wheat sowing and late field stuff for stock, and maybe extra grass on the ranches. It is a long road that has no turns, and for a while it looked like the summer would never end—it has and can you find a more delightful climate than we have in West Texas when there is plenty of rain, in the fall, especially.

How much did it rain? As long as it is pouring down, that question is unanswerable. The above was "typed" Wednesday morning and maybe the "depth" will be tacked on before press hour late Thursday. Anyway, the rain and the cool "air-conditioned country" is wonderful.

MORE RAIN

All this about rain is not for the Hamlin or local people—just skip it. It is for such fellows as A. W. Gray at Georgetown, and a lot of others who have lands in this country.

Yessiree' it is Thursday as we type this and it rained all day Wednesday, all that night and pretty hard most of Thursday morning. All the old cracks, and "wallowing places" have been filled up. The frogs have not croaked yet, as it is too cold. It's a real rain, and folks are happy. Some say the upper leve has caught some water, but no confirmation as yet. However "Dry Callie" ran bank full and already enough water has gone to waste to wet all the folks in Hamlin a full year. Yep.

for the County Agents to persuade farmers to build terraces. Here and there a few far sighted men agreed to use their farms as demonstrations. Before long the neighbors could see the improved crops growing in the fields where terraces protected the rich top soil from gully and sheet erosion and held the water on the land until most of it was absorbed.

Information in the form of a letter or a visit to the office about these old terraces will be appreciated by the county agent. Stories about early terracing will be given to the newspapers as they are collected.

ONE GIVES TWO — SOMETHING NEW!

EVER try to get two of something for one? You say it can't be done? Well, maybe it couldn't according to the old grammar school 'rithmetics, but here's a case in which it's an everyday occurrence. You take one electric range and from it obtain two miracles! The miracles are (1) a light fluffy cake baked in an oven that does not have to be preheated, and (2) no wilting of flowers placed on top of the oven, because of the excellent insulation of the range. You're going to want to try this newest of wrinkles in cake decoration—the use of gloriously colored red garden flowers. You'll be delighted with the novelty, as well as with the colorful note they give your cakes.

PRESTO, IT'S CLEAN AND BRIGHT!

CLEANING a china plate and cleaning one of the modern automatic electric ranges are just about six of one and half-a-dozen of the other for the electric range is as easy to clean—and to keep clean, too—as a china plate. The porcelain enamel top needs only a few swishes with a damp cloth and, presto! it is bright and clean. All surfaces of the modern electric range can be kept clean with just soap and water, followed by rinsing and drying. Rounded corners in the oven lining and removable surface heat units contribute to the unusual "easy-to-cleaness" of this magic servant.

unusual attraction with Harley Sadler Circus, Hamlin, Thursday, September 24th.

The old statement that there is nothing new under the sun is being refuted this season by Harley Sadler, popular Texas showman, who is bringing the Harley Sadler Circus to Hamlin on Thursday, September 24, for an afternoon and night super-gala performance. Believing that the public wants something different in the way of circus entertainment, Harley Sadler has assembled a circus that is a distinct departure from all circus performances. The performance opens with a procession pageant, depicting "Texas Under Six Flags," with all social costumes and musical numbers, then comes the circus performance were act after act takes place with lightning-like rapidity. Among the circus acts will be the great Orton troupe of wire walkers, acrobats, and gymnasts, the Valera family presenting a sensational flying act high in the big tent, Miss Tito Moromoto, little Japanese star of the circus, acclaimed to be one of the greatest performers in the circus world, Munday and June, jugglers extraordinary, Capt. James J. Hamiter and his school of highly trained horses, the Gomez family of acrobats, from Old Mexico, Lee Smith and his gang of funny clowns to make you laugh, Capt. Buck Bonham and his performing elephants, featuring his act by allowing himself to be carried the length of the hippodrome track by his head in the mouth of "Big Vera" world's largest elephant. Another feature of the Harley Sadler circus is "Mary," baby elephant, and it is said the Sadler circus is the only circus on the road today with a mother and baby elephant. The baby elephant stands about three feet high and weighs about two hundred and fifty pounds. The band, under the direction of Professor Eddie See, will present a thirty minute overture preceding the performance. As a special feature attraction, Harley Sadler circus presents, Ramon, Argentine movie star in person, who will be seen in the main show performance, brought to Hamlin, with Denver Chumpler, tenor, with Harley Sadler himself in person will sing during the presentation of with it.

SEARCH BEGUN FOR OLDEST TERRACES

(IN JONES CO. BY CO. AGENT)

Where and when were the first terraces in Jones County built. Co. Agent R. H. Maxwell is anxious to locate the farm having the oldest terraces in order to study the effects of terraces over a long period of years and to compare the productivity of land protected by terraces with fields exposed to erosion.

It is estimated that 125,000 acres of farm land in JONES County have been terraced under the supervision of county agents.

These terraces have been constructed largely with farm power and often with home made drags. Many hundreds of these acres have been terraced made without any cash outlay. In recent years the county commissioners have used road machinery to build terraces. The cost of terracing with heavy machinery is usually below $1.00 per acre.

COMING LEISURE

Long ago a young graduate of 25 years declared that now her days were over, life held little more as she did not need to work, she was tired of play. "I am with society in particular and society in general," she added with a smile.

She was, talented, with a large amount of leisure time on her hands and made of it only an idling time instead of a growing time. Leisure is time to invest, I say, "It is not time to spend. Leisure is time invested in the future, not 'unoccupied' time as the dictionary notwithstanding! An irretrievable mistake for generations to have been made up on."

Long have we been training our children to think and plan their lives in terms of dollars rather than time. Money spent can always be earned. Time spent can never be returned. Time should be budgeted. Money now is budgeted. Children should be taught to expect the best possible dividends from each of their 24 hours. They should anticipate recreation from their study time; from their play or leisure time; from their sleeping time.

Children lose an opportunity for giving their children an early life lesson in successful living when they fail to train them in their play as we hear so often "run away play." Play time in childhood is leisure in adulthood.

Leisure in America is coming; let's that in the past has been a gift to the rich only will soon be part of average man's day. In order to add the work of the world to more hands, some folk will be led to work less hours so that others may work at all, for everyone who lives ought to have a chance to work. Work is a blessed privilege, is leisure. Only the man who appreciates work can fully appreciate leisure, and I am beginning to think I appreciate life to its fullest.

The true test of an educated person is that he can enjoy himself when he and not have to pay another to use him. Life holds no boredom to the man who can recreate his soul in his leisure time. Life's enrichments come to us not through the use of our money, but through the use of our time. Since the American goal has been riches rather than enrichment, what are we going to do with this coming leisure?

SCHOOL NEWS

Hamlin Public Schools Have
Enrolled, to Date, 801 Pupils
Progressing In Second Week

From time to time the Herald shall be glad to have as much school news and reports of athletic activities and other features of school life as may be possible.

Below shows that Hamlin schools under Supt. C. G. Green, are starting off on the new term in a very satisfactory way. Study Mr. Green's report to date and you will figure that the Hamlin schools are crowded and the scope of our scholastic territory has widened to cover about one-fourth of Jones County.

1936-37 FACULTY

C. G. GREEN, Superintendent

PRIMARY DEPARTMENT:

There is one new teacher for this department, Miss Pauline Harrell, who takes the place of Mrs. Ruby Richardson. The others are as follows: Miss Mae Jones, Miss Ruby Dean, Mrs. P. E. Mayhew, Mrs. Mart Farrow, Miss Kathryn Adkins, Miss Marcelle Jones, Mrs. Georgia Moore, Mrs. J. C. Owen, Mr. M. M. Hastings, who is principal for this department.

The enrollment for this department is as follows:

	Boys	Girls	Total
First Grade	45	33	78
Second Grade	39	39	78
Third Grade	42	24	66
Fourth Grade	30	29	59
Fifth Grade	35	44	79
Total	191	169	360

This gives an average of 36 pupils per teacher.

Please note that there are more boys in this department than girls.

INTERMEDIATE DEPT.:

The Intermediate Department is composed of the 6th and 7th grades, and is located in the new High School Building with the following as its faculty: Mr. E. O. Larkin, principal, Miss Viva Milstead, Miss Bonita Duckworth and Miss Zell Ellis, who takes the place of Mrs. Roy Morris.

The enrollment for this department is as follows:

	Boys	Girls	Total
Sixth Grade	37	37	74
Seventh Grade	38	37	75
Total	75	74	149

HIGH SCHOOL DEPT.:

MR. G. R. BENNETT, Principal

The teachers for this Department returning from last year are Miss Ruby Thompson, Mrs. Virginia Holmes, Mr. T. L. Cox. The new teachers are Mr. I. T. Collier, taking the place of Mr. Smith, Miss Ruth LaRue, taking the place of Miss Florence Boyd, who resigned to take a better paying position in Sweetwater, Miss Doris Pope, taking the place of Miss LeSueur, Mr. V. A. Galloway, taking the place of Mr. Roy Morris and Mr. J. R. Jackson, Jr., taking the place of Mr. Pee.

The reason why the former teachers are not all remaining with us is due to the fact that they are receiving better salaries than paid in Hamlin. Two of the ones remaining with us have been offered much better salaries, but they are remaining with us rather than resign at an inopportune time. In order to retain teachers with successful experience it is necessary to pay better salaries than we are paying. To do this it is necessary to increase our school revenues some way.

The enrollment in the High School Department is as follows:

	Boys	Girls	Total
Freshmen Class	55	51	106
Sophomore Class	23	26	69
Junior Class	37	35	72
Senior Class	23	22	45
Enrollment	138	154	292

The large enrollment in the high school department is due to the fact that practically all the rural schools adjacent to Hamlin have eliminated their high school grades and are sending their pupils to the Hamlin High School. The unusual enrollment in this department necessitates 4 classes of Freshmen, 3 classes of Sophomores, 4 classes of Juniors and 2 classes of Seniors.

ENROLLMENT FOR ENTIRE

SCHOOL

	Boys	Girls	Total
Primary Dept.	191	169	360
Intermediate Dept.	75	74	149
High School Dept.	138	154	292
Grand Total	404	397	801

Please note that there are more boys in school than girls.

EXPRESSION DEPT.:

Mrs. E. O. Larkin is instructor in the Department of Expression and reports the following:

Work in the expression department began last week and is progressing well. There are nineteen pupils who are now studying expression. Work is being done on the foundations of expression, and on delivery. Soon work on plays and dramatics will be studied.

Also the expression club is progressing well. The first meeting was held Friday afternoon, and the next meeting will be Friday afternoon of this week at four o'clock in the expression room at the high school building.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT:

Miss Gilbert, teacher of piano in schools, reports: Studies have been established in both buildings and her work is in full swing. Co-operation of the parents is solicited in maintaining standard work on the part of each pupil. The aim of the class is "Service to the Community, both present and future."

HAMLIN FOLKS
BACK TO COLLEGE

September is really a "school month" for little beginners, grades, intermediates, high school and college boys and girls—the beginning month for mere babies and "grown-freshmen." Off to school—to the little fellows it is a great event—but to the young man or young woman, starting off to college for the first time, it is not only a thrill, similar to his or her first day in school, but it is the beginning of an expanding world to them—it is the first year from home and old pals and familiar faces—most of them survive the home-sickness and build new circles of friends and ambitions. September is a beginning month.

BACK TO COLLEGE

This week and last, Texas Colleges have greeted many Hamlin young men and women.

Last Saturday H. O. Cassle, Jr. preceded his Hamlin classmates by going back to Baylor University to resume his work there. This week Ray Willingham, Jr., Marvin York, W. L. Boyd, Jr., and Miss Geneva Albritton and C. J. Adkins left for Baylor. J. C. Turner will return to Baylor University probably by the end of the week, being detained by illness a few days.

Miss Lucille Newsom went to Abilene Sunday to enroll this week in McMurry College.

Misses Avalen Murphree and Pearl Morris left this week for Bethany, Oklahoma, where they will take up work in Bethany Peniel College. This is Miss Morris' second semester there and Miss Murphree's first.

Texas Tech is well patronized this year again. Miss Mary Beth Moody, a high school graduate of last year enters the Lubbock school as a Freshman. Others returning there are Paul White, Delma Shelburne, Warren Nobles and Wynell Cox.

Carroll Benson is starting his senior year in Simmons University at Abilene.

Texas State College for Women enrolled Miss Annie Merle Ferguson this week as a Freshman. Miss Ferguson was accompanied to Denton Monday by her mother and two sisters, Mrs. Ensey and Mrs. Jones, who visited the Centennials before returning.

Miss Judy Via entered a business college in Abilene this week to complete a course in business administration.

Baylor University Medical Department at Dallas has two Hamlin men this term. Robert Johnson, who enrolled a year ago and later gave up his work because of an operation is back gain learning the mysteries of the human body. Robert is joined this term by his brother, Frank Johnson, who is expanding his field as a

COACH GALLOWAY
SHAPING TO WIN

Already, the new Coach, V. A. Galloway, is shaping up a fine bunch of athletes and when the football season starts, we may expect to see one of the best teams of Pied Pipers this city has had in many years.

Mr. Galloway has been on the ground since before school started and has already won a popular place among the big bunch of heavy boys. Below he submits his lineup for the year and such other information as found among football players.

—Wilson Bldg.—Milk Best Source of Farm Cash—
Survey Indicates Steady Increase

DAIRY farmers' income from milk for the first four months of 1936 increased $25,000,000 over the first four months of 1935 according to K. V. Lipscomb, Texas dairy leader. As the largest single source of farm income, milk put $435,000,000 in farmers' pocketbooks during the period—a new high since 1932.

Although storms and flood cost farmers and distributors extra expenses this year to get milk to consumers, increased farm milk income is particularly gratifying to the milk industry despite heavy losses, Mr. Lipscomb declared.

Milk was less than 15 per cent of total farm income ten years ago, while for 1935 it was about one-fifth of the total. With yearly farm milk income about $340,000,000 greater in 1935 than the 1932 total, dairying brightens the agricultural picture, as milk is paid for monthly while most crops only bring in money at the end of the season.

During the last quarter of a century, the number of cows in the United States has grown to more than 25,000,000, with yearly milk production of approximately 46,500,000,000 quarts. These increases are due chiefly to scientific progress and expansion of daily distribution of milk to consumers.

Increased cooperation of dairy farmers and milk distributors to produce high quality milk by maintenance of rigid health standards and a steady, dependable supply forecast continued improvement in farm return from milk during the year, according to Mr. Lipscomb.

Curiosa Americana

By Elmo Scott Watson

"Down With Demon Rum!"

BACK in the early days of the temperance movement in this country, a poem, called "The Song of the De-canter," which was often reprinted in the newspapers, was this typographical curiosity:

There was an old de-canter, and its mouth was gaping wide; the ruby wine had ebbed away and left its crystal slide; and the wind went humming, humming—up and down the slides it flew and through the reed-like hollow neck the wildest notes it blew. I placed it in the window where this blast was blowing free and fancied that its pale mouth sang the queerest strains to me: "They tell me puny conquerors—that Plague has slain his ten, and War his hundred thousands of the very best of men: 'But I—'twas thus the bottle spoke—'But I have conquered more than all your famous conquerors, so feared and named of yore. Then to me, you youths and maidens, come drink from out my cup the beverage that dulls the brain and burns the spirits up, and puts to shame the conquerors that slay their scores below; for this has deluged millions with the lava tide of woe. Though in the path of battle darkest waves of blood may roll, yet while I killed the body I have damned the very soul. The cholera, the sword, such ruin never wrought as I, in mirth or malice, on the innocent have brought. And still I breathe upon them, and they shrink before my breath; and year by year the thousands tread this dismal road to death!"
